Making Sense of Land Law 3rd Edition

April Stroud, Southampton Solent University, School of Law, UK, ALT Law Teacher of the Year 2005

'By approaching land law in a different way this book offers a key to the mysteries of land law for students who find the subject impenetrable.' – C. J. Willmore, School of Law, Bristol University, UK

Written with the student in mind, this text provides a fresh and innovative approach to land law, intending to help those coming to the subject for the first time as part of a law based degree or study in a related discipline. Now fully updated, its clear and engaging style assists students' understanding of the essential concepts and brings land law to life. Practical scenarios and diagrams feature throughout with question and answer debates, underpinned with the relevant case law and statutory material. This is an ideal course companion and revision guide.
